IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL NAFA WILD FUR SHIPPERS

Due to the limited quantities of wild fur expected for our January 11, 2010 auction, NAFA decided today to cancel this auction sale.

For selected articles normally made available in January, interested buyers can contact our Private Treaty Department after January 9, 2010.

All goods received from our wild fur consignors for January and not sold by Private Treaty will be combined with the much larger quantities expected to be received for our March 12-18, 2010 auction, which is guaranteed to attract all the major world fur buyers. We will offer a complete catalogue of well matched lots in large volumes in March. This is what is required to attract the demand and attention we need to start the season.

NAFA is the dominant marketer of Wild Fur, a distinction we take very seriously, and we are determined to re-establish a viable and profitable market in today's fur consuming areas such as China and Russia.

We feel that some improvements due to our marketing efforts will be seen in our March Auction.
