Coyotes Continue to Sell at Very High Prices

Today's wild fur sale started with 310,000 muskrats, which sold 100% under good competition, dominated by China.

Coyotes continue to have very strong demand from the international fashion and trim trade. 105,000 coyotes sold 100%, primarily to Italy, France, Canada and Hong Kong for the better sections, ending the coyote selling season on a very strong note.

A small collection of wild mink sold 100%. Beaver sold well in the larger sizes but met resistance in the smaller sizes. Raccoons were mainly withdrawn due to the continued absence of Russian demand, which also effected clearances of red fox, grey fox, and ranched silver fox.

Yesterday's sale of taxidermist articles including bears, timber wolves and wolverine sold very well with good clearances.

The sale continues tomorrow with our regular ranch mink offering.

Can-Am Sable Sells Under Strong Competition

A very nice collection of 25,000 Can-Am Sable sold under very strong competition with all major markets participating. China and Korea dominated the better qualities, with good support from Greece. NAFA is very pleased to have Greek participation in this sale despite the difficulties in that market.

A small collection of fisher met good demand. The females sold 100%, dominated by China. Fisher males sold 80% to Greece and China.

A late season collection of lynx sold 65%, with sales confined to commercial quality, while better quality/larger sizes remain mostly unsold.
