

NORTH AMERICAN FUR AUCTIONS INC.

February 6, 2018

It is with great pleasure that NAFA announces that the Blackglama label has officially been acquired by our company and will be available as a welcome addition to our upcoming February/March auction.

Our high quality black mink will now be catalogued under a joint “Black NAFA/Blackglama” heading, and buyers will be given the option to request either label, or a combination of the two, based on NAFA’s label allocation guidelines. Together, these two world renowned labels, Black NAFA and Blackglama, will offer both buyers and their customers the opportunity to buy the very best black mink that the world has to offer and use them in a manner that best suits their own needs.

The upcoming February/March auction is also our opportunity to celebrate the partnership of North America's two most famous labels under one banner. To date, NAFA has collected over 2 million mink from former ALC ranchers. All of this represents a giant step forward in promoting the unification of the North American mink industry.

We will be offering over 1 million of the world's finest quality black mink in our upcoming February/March sale. This is a historic event, in which we will be marketing the greatest collection of black mink ever assembled.

This is a sale of significant value and shouldn't be missed by any serious members of the fur-buying trade.
